DTILE[®]

we tile
the world

The most versatile tile in the world

The DTILE tile-system consists of rounded tiles (or 'construction-tiles' as we like to call them), and function-tiles. This system allows any space, object or surface to be fully tiled. DTILE covers the surfaces in a blanket of tiles, with a single, unbroken grid of tilework. DTILE can be used in almost any condition - on floors or walls, indoors or outdoors, wet or dry, domestic, public or industrial.

The factory

After designing the first prototypes in 2001, we discovered that designing rounded tiles was easier than making them. We travelled the world to find a factory that was able to do the manufacturing. No one could, so in 2010 we bought the machinery to start our own factory.

Today, we produce the rounded construction tiles and the expanding range of function tiles in Velp, The Netherlands. The highly specialized production process requires craftsmanship and attention to detail from the small team in our workshop.

You are always welcome in Velp to see how a bucket of dry clay transforms into shiny and virtually unbreakable objects - in a range of beautiful colors. And for a cup of coffee, of course.

Construction tiles and function tiles

The DTILE collection consists of 6 construction tiles (pictured beneath) and 16 function tiles (pictured on the next page), in twenty colors.

To avoid confusion, we gave every tile and color a name.

When ordering make sure to use the proper names and names of colors.
