About us

A Journey from masterful brass craftsmanship to iconic Italian design excellence.

1961 – Giuseppe Ghidini founded Ghidini Giuseppe Bosco, a company specializing in producing brass components for the lighting industry.

The entire production cycle takes place in-house and is characterized by meticulous attention to detail: from the idea to the end product, passing through the various processing stages—from pressure die casting to handmade lost wax, from machining to drilling, from satin-finishing to sand-blasting and polishing.

The roots of success lie in the tradition of metalworking and their profound knowledge.

About us

Know how meets Design.

2016 - Ghidini1961 is born. From the know how of Ghidini Giuseppe Bosco and collaborations with a diverse team of Italian and International designers, we give life to an innovative brand, where casted metal is at the core of our design language.

Our products are not just meant to decorate a refined environment. Still, they represent something valuable to be cared for, and that can be passed down through generations thanks to their intrinsic and long-lasting value blended with iconic and timeless design.

About us

What makes a design product a Ghidini1961 one.

Mastering metal means expressing design in forms like no one else can. Ghidini1961 epitomizes Italian excellence, blending artistry and mastery in metal craftsmanship. With unparalleled skill in shaping metal, the brand creates distinctive designs free from creative constraints.

Over the years, the company has explored new materials. Ghidini1961 is committed to excellence, starting with meticulously selecting the finest materials. Every choice reflects a relentless pursuit of quality, ensuring only the best is used for each creation.

The dedication of our artisans is what makes every product unique. Their expertise and meticulous attention to detail are essential in crafting, refining, and inspecting each piece. The value of human craftsmanship shines through in every stage of the process, reflecting a deep respect for artisans and their mastery.

When these values come together, a Ghidini1961 product comes to life.

About us

A unique style interpreted by internationally renowned designers.

Led by CEO Roberto Ghidini, the company stands out in the contemporary design universe thanks to its quality, creativity, high craftsmanship and recognizable style. Collaborations with world-renowned designers such as Andrea Branzi, Lorenza Bozzoli, the Campana brothers, Johanna Grawunder, Richard Hutten, Alessandro Mendini and Paolo Rizzatto, to name a few, have further strengthened the brand. Dedication to excellence and constant innovation promise to keep Ghidini1961 at the top of the high-end segment.

Our furniture, Your story.

Flo

Lorenza Bozzoli

sofa Flo - small tables Ottanta side table Arnold - floor lamp Helios

Flo

The two and four seater sofas are both made with a significant metal structure, typical of the craftsmanship of Ghidini1961. The cotton velvet provides a strong and distinctive character suitable for both modern and traditional environments. A reinterpretation that fully embraces the principles of contemporary design. The soft armrest suggests an informal interaction with this sofa, reminding that comfort is always a core design element.

Flo

The back view of the Flo family of seaters emphasizes the dialogue between precious materials, such as casted aluminum, cotton velvet and saddle leather.

Customization is once again at the center of the project, thanks to the almost endless combinations between these materials.

Mambo

Lorenza Bozzoli

modular sofa Mambo - small tables Tria
rug Plumose

Mambo

This modular sofa is not simply a piece of furniture but a celebration of the movement, fluidity and expressiveness of the famous Caribbean dance. The sinuous shape allows the sofa to unfold in the space in an elegant way, evoking the graceful and lively movements of mambo dancers. Each module of the sofa is composed in harmony with the others in a dance that invites you to sit down and let yourself be lulled by its comfort.

modular sofa Mambo - small table Triá
rug Plumose

Mambo

The Mambo family is completed with a generous and comfy armchair, which shares the same distinctive elements of the large sofa.

The folds and curves of the seat and backrest recall to a convivial language, which blends seamlessly with the large dimensions of the modular sofa.

Infinito

Infinite in endless seating compositions; and infinite in freedom of expression. This sofa, with only 3 elements, allows for a wide range of seating compositions, each with different depths.

Tarantino

Lorenza Bozzoli

sofa Tarantino - armchair Bucket
bookshelf Frame - small tables Milo floor lamp Can Can - table lamp One on One

Tarantino

Soft and welcoming, this sofa is inspired by the 70's; a decade that changed our culture forever through freedom and self-discovery.

The Sofa invites you to a world of fantasy where you can indulge in the comfort and coziness of your passions. Tarantino, as if following a skillful plot, lends itself to composing various original and alternative solutions integrated by the soft goose down cushions covered with textured cotton corduroy proposed in colors inspired by the 70s.

Frame

Collection composed of sofas, armchairs, dining and coffee tables, bookshelves and cabinets. Everything starts from a simple element: "the joint", which, combined with elegant rounded 45 degrees extrusions, creates an almost infinite family. The collection is characterized by organic junctions that, in their possible combinations, create minimal, compact and powerful structures. Frame is built starting from few elements that are able to create a large family with essential lines.

Dodo

Stefano Giovannoni

sofa and armchair Dodo
small table Milo

Dodo

Dodo is a variant of the Frame sofa where the supporting structure on which the seat rests is lowered, giving it greater consistency.

The supporting frame brushes the floor without touching it, while the generous height of the seat cushions provides great comfort

Milo

Stefano Giovannoni

sofa and small tables Milo

Milo

Milo is an evolution of the Frame sofa which adopts the same extruded aluminum profile, combined with a different joint and foot. The metal structure is now simplified and the frame, instead of rising to structure the armrest, supports the padded part composed by the seats and backrest. The foot bears the load of the frame, tapering its shape to flaunt a refined elegance.

This family of products makes a bold statement with its generous cylindrical foot, connecting its structural perimeter while delimiting the objects that compose it.

The distinctive metal rim that supports the seats, the tables, the cabinets, graphically encompasses the material with which they are made. This is beautifully portrayed in the tables, where the marble tabletop matches with the legs in turned marble, or with the armchairs featuring leather seats and legs of the same color.

Portofino

Stefano Giovannoni

modular sofa Portofino
floor lamp Dusk Dawn

Portofino

The Portofino reimagines the classic Chester sofa by deconstructing it to make it contemporary and modular. Composed by a variety of elements, this sofa becomes an object of memory and at the same time innovative adaptable to a multiple variety of contexts.

Hillary

Richard Hutten

Hillary easy chair is the bigger version of the very successful Hillary dining chair. The generous proportions of the backrest give the chair its presence, while at the same time providing high comfort, like a tailor made jacket. With its sleek design, impeccable craftsmanship, and innovative features, it infuses sophistication and opulence into any space. Through a shared dedication to quality, this extraordinary furniture piece emerges as a timeless masterpiece.

Spritz

Lorenza Bozzoli

Made up of dining and living armchairs, the Spritz seating family evokes the sparkling world of aperitifs. The 360° swivel movement adds a playful and dynamic element to the armchair, making it perfect for informal environments where conversation and interaction are at the center of the experience. In the dining version, the swivel movement with return allows the seats to return to their always tidy position around the table.

Sweet

Elisa Giovannoni

The design of the armchair takes place by subtracting material from a full spheroidal shape, as if a large spoon created a seat inside a yeasted cake. Inside it is a classic bergère while the rear view projects a more sculptural and prominent presence. A cozy and sweet "Panettone" where you can sit resting your feet on a soft ottoman.

Sipario

Lorenza Bozzoli

The draped Nabuk backrest recalls a stage curtain: like a drape that closes the stage in theaters, here gently wraps the soft seat of small dimensions of this lounge chair.

Bucket

Elisa Giovannoni

A conical and regular shape reminiscent of an upside down bucket encloses the soft seat cushion, the backrest sets like a detail and can have different heights, depending on the type of seat. The design, which is made up of different aggregated elements, allows you to freely combine materials and colors together and to give character to this armchair with fashionable connotations, where the detail becomes the protagonist.

Arch

Richard Hutten

The Arch chair draws inspiration from the iconic arches of Rome's Colosseum. Its graceful contours and enduring elegance seamlessly marry contemporary style with timeless craftsmanship. Embracing the materiality, the external frame exudes a sense of celebration, while the gentle curves of the backrest promise endless comfort during long evenings. This chair effortlessly infuses richness and sophistication into any space, seamlessly adapting to diverse environments with its versatile charm.

Hillary

Richard Hutten

The Hillary chair, named after the butler of Lara Croft in Tomb Raider, serves you in a very elegant way. The generous proportions of the backrest gives the chair its presence, while at the same time providing high comfort, like a tailor made jacket. With its sleek design, impeccable craftsmanship, and innovative features, it infuses sophistication and opulence into any space. Through a shared dedication to quality, this extraordinary furniture piece emerges as a timeless masterpiece.

Liù

Paolo Rizzatto

The materiality of the metal alloy flows sinuously into the mold giving life to the idea of a rectangular section with slightly rounded sides and edges which, moving freely in space, re-proposes itself on an increased scale up to design a discreetly curved seat and back (but generously padded!) and ends aiming decisively to the ground with four definitively straight legs.

Fabbrica

Branch Creative

Branch's second chair design for Ghidini, is a study in simplification of both form and construction. Drawing on the iconic lines of the classic chair silhouette, Fabbrica's frame is constructed of a single casting repeated on two sides. Rather than utilizing aluminum extrusions which require welding and complicated finishing, Fabbrica celebrates the simple I-beam section, giving the chair structure with minimal weight.

chair Fabbrica - table Locust

Fabbrica

Echoing the simplicity of the frame, a single seat surface in both leather and fabric is attached at three points allowing the thin silhouette to suspend and flex to the user's position.

Coast

Branch Creative

Inspired by the Northern California coastline, the Coast Chair's design draws its influence from a landscape of wandering, golden hills and the meandering roads that intersect them. Blending refined architectural elements with fluid gestures, the chair's form brings surprising design moments to a functional, everyday object.

Miami

Nika Zupanc

The perfect partner to the Miami table's personal transformative power is the Miami chair. Lightly push it back away from the desk, step in between the two objects and take a seat on the essence of simplicity, a chair stripped to its iconic form. Ultimately you find yourself arranged, alight the peak of your super fabulous golden self.

Love

Nika Zupanc

Love is all around. Clench yours tight, hold it close, and bestow on it the shiny perch it so wishes it deserved.

Love Chair for Ghidini 1961 provides a sumptuously soft landing for the love you've decided to start domesticating. Seated on a pale soft cushion and subtly yet firmly supported by the airy twists of the brass heart backrest your love has just enough room to stay right where it is. The ultimate beauty of the Love Chair lies in multiplicity. Because love, seated or otherwise, is rarely solitary and singular.

Katana

Paolo Rizzatto

The series of seatings "Katana" identify and combine in a balanced synthesis the three elements that characterize seats (the legs, the seat, the backrest), but at the same time makes them understandable one separated from the other, enhancing in that way the different specific characteristics and mutual relations.

Three geometric shapes (a Line, a Plan, a Volume) and three materials (Metal, Wood, Marble) exploiting the artifice and techniques of “tapering” take the form of a solid tapered column completed with connections at the base and at the head providing a comfortable support surface characterized by a thin rounded edge and a stable truncated cone base. The several combinations of the three geometries and the three materials are enriched by some dimensional variations and, with the study and fine-tuning of their overall proportions, take their definitive and complete form where the elegant aluminum column, which draws and solves the connection and attachment between the top and the base, becomes the distinctive element of the project without taking over the other elements that take part in the compositional game.

Artù

The large circular top is well supported by a solid base formed by a series of overlapping concave and convex rotation volumes alternating the metal (brushed burnished metal scots) and stone (grooves and spheres in precious colored marbles).

The whole communicates a feeling of well-constructed stability and security and of noble architectural richness. The circle evokes the legend of the "Knights of the Round Table", and "King Arthur", stone and metal recall the "Sword in the Stone" back to Excalibur.

Thanks to the strength and visual presence of the supporting leg, the Artù is presented also in a rectangular and oval configurations.

The marble top instead seems to float supported by an unusual structure surprisingly rich and light, airy and iridescent as the points of view change. The linear and curvilinear shapes in burnished and brushed metal that compose it they refer to organic vegetal forms and when reflected in a mirrored surface they multiply and they seem to mysteriously sink in the floor plane.

Tria

Dining table with irregularly shaped top, inspired by the section of a river stone, evokes the fluidity and harmony of nature making it a prominent element in any environment.

Selected for its exceptional quality and color, Portuguese pink marble is renowned for its delicate veins that run across the surface, with nuances that make it unique. The top is supported by zoomorphic sculptured bases made of the same material.

The generous supporting leg of the table allows this family to be offered with sizes up to 280cm.

Cards

Lorenza Bozzoli

Cards is a wooden and metal, or marble and metal coffee table that combines functionality and design. Its name comes from direct inspiration: it recalls a construction of playing cards.

Perfect as a bedside table next to a bed or as a side table in the living room, Cards is an object that attracts the eye without being invasive.

Each side tells a different story, transforming a furnishing accessory into a small piece of domestic architecture.

The contrasting surfaces – a dark panel with a rounded profile and a metal side wall create a dynamic visual dialogue.

Da Vinci

Richard Hutten

Side table in crystal and brass in squared or rounded shape.

The Vitruvian man and the idea of the human body perfection: this is how the designer sees this central coffee table shaped perfectly with the squared and round shape. The glass, in the double overlapping layer, reveals and hides at the same time the precious supporting structure in brass.

Dapertutto

Paolo Rizzatto

Dapertutto is a disturbing character, part magician and part devil from “The Tales of Hoffmann”, Offenbach’s opera fantastique. “Dapertutto” could be the perfect name for this side table designed to sneak “everywhere”, in every environment with its form that is both archetypal (think of the Diablo game) and very contemporary (reminiscing black holes), but still ambiguous and reversible.

small tables Dapertutto – sofa Abbracci

Arnold

Paolo Rizzatto

Three geometric shapes (a Line, a Plan, a Volume) and three materials (Metal, Wood, Marble) exploiting the artifice and techniques of “tapering” take the form of: a solid tapered column (in two heights) completed with connections at the base and at the head providing a comfortable support surface characterized by a thin rounded edge and a stable truncated cone base.

small tables Arnold - sofa Elephant
rug Triple waves

Arnold

The several combinations of the three geometries and the three materials are enriched by some dimensional variations and, with the study and fine-tuning of their overall proportions, take their definitive and complete form where the elegant brass column, which draws and solves the connection and attachment between the top and the base, becomes the distinctive element of the project without taking over the other elements that take part in the compositional game.

Opera

Richard Hutten

For the interior design of the Dutch national Opera and ballet Richard Hutten designed these simple yet elegant and very useful side tables.

Ninfee

Alessandro Mendini

As if they were large and flat lilies leaves that run, approach, float and mate while flowing on the water surface of a pond. So these small Ninfee tables float and can stand alone, or pair and get together in spaces creating elegant combinations. They are approachable works that are helpful in their primary function, but very decorative, light and glistening in the sun, in their naturalistic image and vaguely liberty.

Flowers

Stefano Giovannoni

The natural element is the focus of this project of a coffee table where the surface is shaped like a stylized flower. A triptych of distinct elements which rest on a circular foot and, given the different heights, can be pushed together and partially overlapped, instead of be used singularly.

Miami

Nika Zupanc

Just when you're feeling down, and a little bit battered or numbed by life in general, along comes a spectacularly shiny square-metre of table surface to put it all to rights. A perfectly mad place on which to produce the blueprint of your very individualism.

Plomis

The Plomis bookshelf is a symbol of Italian luxury and elegance. Inspired by flowers, the playful and surprising design adds sophistication to any space. Versatile, Plomis masterfully explores the friction and harmony between minimalist elegance and ornate design. The fragmented surfaces create a stunning interplay of light and shadow, enhancing the contrast between solid metal and the wooden shelves. Bold and innovative.

Flexor

Robert Stadler

Flexor

The Flexor shelving system's aluminum extrusion structure allows endless combination possibilities. The strong metal elements both connect and support the various wooden containers.

Flexor

The Flexor system is proposed also as families of living and dining cabinets, which can be easily customized in size and colors thanks to the flexibility of the wood containers and the aluminum extrusion structure.

Bold

Elisa Giovannoni

This family of products makes a bold statement with its generous cylindrical foot, connecting its structural perimeter while delimiting the objects that compose it. With the massive dimensions and the softness of the fittings, the materials are enhanced in their characteristics creating a sculptural effect and giving a distinct personality to each element of the collection.

Zuan

Different cultural references and needs in time and space are combined in the Zuan cabinet collection. The classic types of Oriental timeless "cabinets" and the eighteenth-century English "chests" are revisited and updated. The single piece combines three materials in a variable and versatile way: brass, wood and marble. The brass for the support frames and partition walls, the wood for the containers and the marble for the support surfaces. Each Zuan is recognizable by the detail of the support, a quarter of a circle with great aesthetic and functionality, which defines the character of the storage unit.

The bookshelves are characterized by metal organic junctions that, in their possible combinations, create minimal, compact and powerful structures. The bookshelves consist of a couple of vertical metal structures which create a bridge in combination with horizontal wooden shelves, while a X shaped tie rods keep together the structural elements.

Legs

Paolo Rizzatto

Mambo

Lorenza Bozzoli

bed Mambo - small table Cards

Mambo

This bed is not simply a piece of furniture but a celebration of the movement, fluidity and expressiveness of the famous Caribbean dance. The sinuous shape allows the bed to unfold in the space in an elegant way, evoking the graceful and lively movements of mambo dancers. Each element of the sofa is composed in harmony with the others in a dance that invites you to lie down and let yourself be lulled by its comfort. The color of the chosen velvet recalls the energy and fertility of the tropical land, its generous curls the costumes of Creole dancers.

Ufo

Next to the Mambo bed is a truly elegant combination – soft and enveloping design on one side, and futuristic and clean lines on the other.” The base is formed by a central column that extends into a four-spoke, pedestal-type support, also in a satin platinum finish, the upper structure is a container open on both sides, useful for storing books, objects or small devices.

Abbracci

The Abbracci bed (hug in Italian) can be selected with soft fabrics or natural leathers. The design language of this bed is a constant dialogue of gentle yet welcoming shapes and movements, that sublimates in the rising of the headrest, that smoothly encapsulates the bed main body.

Frame

Frame

Everything starts from a simple element: “the joint”, which, combined with elegant rounded 45 degrees extrusions, creates an almost infinite family. The collection is characterized by organic junctions that, in their possible combinations, create minimal, compact and powerful structures. The footboard and bed sides of the Frame bed is in casted aluminum and saddle leather, emphasizing the handmade process needed to manufacture the bed.

Frame

The four-poster structure of Frame bed, in aluminum and casted joints, dialogues with the pure hand-stitched Italian saddle leather of the headrest and bed sides, providing a very strong image.

Tarantino

Soft and welcoming, this bed is inspired by the 70's; a decade that changed our culture forever through freedom and self- discovery. The bed invites you to a world of fantasy where you can indulge in the comfort and coziness of your passions. Tarantino, as if following a skillful plot, proposes itself with a soft goose down cushions covered with textured cotton corduroy proposed in colors inspired by the 70's.

The headboard of the Tarantino bed is made from a lavish structure of soft goose down cushions upholstered in noble fabrics or natural leathers.

The base is composed of four casted aluminum feet, that can be configured with the extensive range of metal finishes available. The Tarantino bed can be complemented with the Tarantino bedside table and chest of drawers in natural oak.

Tarantino

The Tarantino chest of drawers feature curved and delicate lines that reference those of the bed, which they complement naturally.

The cylindrical elements in aluminum perform the function of handles and supporting feet.

lamp Dash - table Tria

Dash

Dash is a light of texture and geometry. Thick, fume'-colored cast acrylic panels, illuminated along the top edge, suspend from the tubular structure which zig zags its way through its route. The light is filtered through the material making a geometric dappled-light effect. With minimal structure, the light is maximized through the acrylic panels, creating a soft, transparent, and warm glow, with a crispier white light onto surfaces below.

Tratto

Paolo Rizzatto

The essence of the sophisticated form of a lighting fixture is expressed in a custom-made proposal. Besides being available in standard sizes for the single version, Tratto becomes a modular element that can be repeated infinitely. Elegance, versatility and discreet presence define the design of a product that is suitable for both residential and workspace solutions.

Helios

Branch Creative

Supported on a simple stand and base, Helios balances a conic glass shade on top of a small glowing sphere.

Magically suspended above the Sphere, this semi-translucent shade can be angled and pivoted in any direction allowing a range the versatility - from focused light for reading to a more diffused ambient effect for the gathering of groups.

The iconic blown glass lampshade fully hides the lighting source when switched off.

This lamp speaks to the unique ability to light up different sections of the lamp body, and it expresses and inspires intimacy while talking with someone one on one.

The One on One is composed by two blown glass elements, with the lower being metalized and housing an internal glass cylinder to give a sculptural effect to the light source. The upper glass is frosted to provide a significant brightness.

Dusk Dawn

Branch Creative

"It's the time when the sun drops below the horizon, leaving a glow that signals the arrival of the night, and gently takes us back to the warm embrace of dawn light in the morning". Mio Bio Trio

Aldo Cibic

Mio, Bio and Trio are born from the idea of creating a gentle form, light but consistent and timeless, using brass as a single material. Thanks to the versatility of the rod it is possible to create articulated and original structures, while the sheets allows to realize the lampshades which spread a golden light, warm and soft. The satinated finish give these sleek table lamps a refined and understated allure allowing them to easily feature in residential, hospitality and office environments.

Factory

Branch Creative

The bell metal lamp used in industrial halls is a no-name icon to the metal suspension, in a balance between technical and functional image and memory, easily finds its place in the contemporary sensibility.

Our take is a noble metal version with the smooth and reflective bell, and the signature casting that encloses the bulb holder and the anchor hook.

Indi-pendant

Richard Hutten

The inspiration came from utilitarian factory lamps. The key element is the way they hang. A simple, elegant pendant lamp which works in many different environments. The brass gives a warm reflection and they can be used both at home as well as in commercial environments such as shops and restaurants.

Sfere

Paolo Rizzatto

A pendant lamp with a free interpretation of space, where four brass spheres, archetypal and elementary forms, can achieve various configurations, in a balance of counterweights where the wirings are exposed, and the light that comes with a little mystery from the various spheres expands or concentrate depending on the positioning of the individual sources.

Butterfly

Richard Hutten

Butterflies have been a source of inspiration through Art History. From the ancient Egypt's, to the Renaissance until now it has always been a theme.

The Butterfly mirror is both playful and elegant. Coats flit from coat hanger to coat hanger like butterflies go from one flower to another. Available in a single version too – to be hunged to the wall.

"The piece can be used as a lamp as it is backlit", explains Fernando Campana. And Humberto adds "It will be a mirror with the possibility of different sizes and colors. A geometric piece that can produce various designs. We were inspired by Lygia Clark's Bicho critter sculptures".

Fan

Setsu & Shinobu Ito

Fan is a mirror inspired by the iconic shape of the classic Japanese fan in its semi-circular opening. An object that in the Japanese tradition is not only used to emanate air, but also to create a diaphragm between two people, to hide shyness but in this case allows you to be reflected. The structure is completely made polished brass die-casted, the central part is instead made of a generous mirrored surface that allows the user to reflect.

Portrait

Branch Creative

A classic Renaissance monofora is the form that inspired the two mirrors. The arc is defined by brass profile rounded at the bottom, just like on a windowsill to lean on, then a little bird appear: poetic quotations that lead to the practice of the portrait and games of reflections.

Frying Pan

Branch Creative

The Frying Pan is a mirror that marks a return to the rural elements in design and society and pictures humble stable tools. Now that the farmers of the world cloth, feed and fuel us, a far-reaching movement triggers designers to revisit folk and farm mentalities to blend rural and urban styles.

Tumbrella & Butler

Richard Hutten

Inspiration for these umbrella stands was found in the shape of an umbrella, as can be seen in antique predecessors.

The handle has been conceived as a hook for the foldable umbrella's. It's a contemporary interpretation of a classic product typology.
